

ABOUT US

We help builders, not just buyers.

PC Part Matcher was built to take the confusion out of PC building — giving everyone from first-timers to enthusiasts the tools to make smart, confident hardware decisions.

OUR MISSION

Building a PC should be exciting — not a minefield of incompatible sockets, mismatched memory standards, and confusing spec sheets. We created PC Part Matcher to give every builder a single, reliable place to find, filter, and compare components with confidence.

Whether you are putting together your first budget gaming rig or speccking out a high-end workstation, our goal is to make the process straightforward, transparent, and free.
